

Top notch

Award-winning Stanmer House is the perfect business and conference destination

Situated in the historic Stanmer Park, Stanmer House takes great pride in hosting all types of conference and corporate events, offering unrivalled facilities and state of the art technology. The restoration of Stanmer House won the Sussex Heritage Trust Award 2007.

The flexible corporate meeting and conference rooms are built to cater for all training, meeting and conference needs, whether you need an intimate meeting space or a theatre style set-up, rooms can be customised our rooms and technology utilised to your requirements.

Your timetable is their timetable. The staff will strive to do all they can to make sure you have a hassle-free meeting. Throughout your time with Stanmer House you'll have direct communication with your meeting host and if required, an agreed messaging service that ensures prompt attention and minimum disruption to your day.

The library and grand lobby make comfortable pre-function spaces preceding the meeting rooms and allowing for a wonderful atmosphere for networking, small impromptu gatherings, registration, or food and beverage service. Furthermore after your day you can meet in the bar to discuss the day's events, or just kick back and relax.

From business organisations to corporate banks to successful local entrepreneurs – businesses appreciate the value of a venue that meets its needs and enhances its company profile. Stanmer House understands this principle and have created the Stanmer Members Club allowing them to work for their members forging partnership deals that can benefit companies and individuals.

To see why many local and international businesses choose Stanmer House as their preferred venue; call or visit to meet with their specialist events managers who will take pleasure in showing you why Stanmer House's reputation for first-class service is the direct result of a continued team effort to provide a level of service that is second to none.

Also, a new service "the kitchen," Stanmer House very own in-house catering has been launched. With nearly 30 years experience head chef

Eric brings a wealth of experience from working in top London establishments and his repertoire includes all types of catering. From major events to intimate fine dining, "the kitchen" dovetails with Stanmer House principles, suppliers are local and produce sourced fresh and local where possible. We can produce organic, free range menus for bespoke events. Our produce simply created freshly prepared dishes using our herb garden on our grounds. Our menus are perfect for our corporate customers or family gathering.
